Did you know CAFOD is calling on our government to put pressure on mining companies to be more accountable to citizens in the developing world? Zambia ranks 1st for Africa's copper production and annually exports $393 billion of oil, gas and minerals. Yet life expectancy in Zambia is 47 years, with 19 hospital beds per 10,000. Zambia's people are unaware of how much foreign mining corporations pay for their copper. You can act now to help transform their lives, so they can start to benefit from their birthright. See www.cafod.org.uk/openupthebooks.
