Did you know..... that in August Sierra Leone's government declared a national emergency due to the worst outbreak of cholera in 15 years? Torrential rain worsened the outbreak, adding to the poor hygiene, unsafe water sources and improper waste management that are believed to have triggered the disease. CAFOD is relieved and pleased to announce that the outbreak has eased over the past 2 months. CAFOD is working hard with local churches to promote cholera prevention. Your faith in action is mirrored in the work of the Catholic Church in Sierra Leone. Thank you for supporting CAFOD in this way.
