Did you know..... over 3 million people have had to leave their homes as the Syria Crisis escalates further? Mike Noyes, CAFOD's lead on Syria, comments: "As a result of the violence that continues to worsen across Syria, we are now facing a humanitarian crisis across the region as big as the one which affected Haiti after the earthquake. We are supporting our partners in Syria and in neighbouring countries to do all they can to ensure that the most vulnerable are getting the help they need, but this is limited by the resources we currently have available."
