Did you know ... in Bangladesh, CAFOD is helping to improve girls' access to education? Our partner, Caritas Bangladesh, helps people adapt to their changing climate by supporting them in setting up businesses that will thrive in the local conditions. They helped Tapati build a raised vegetable garden that won't get destroyed by floods. She can now sell the vegetables. One side effect of people earning more money is that many more families are now able to choose to send their daughters to school. With your support, CAFOD is enabling and empowering those in most need.
