Today special collection for Catholic Education Council.

Did you know.....3 years on, CAFOD continues to support the Haitian people as they recover from one of the most devastating earthquakes in recent history? We are committed to making sure that Haitians take the lead in rebuilding their country. While some aid agencies have flown in foreign contractors to build houses, CAFOD has worked with Haitian engineers and trained local people to be masons. We're helping local Catholic organisations to scale up their work, ensuring the Haitian people have the skills they need to build disaster-resistant homes.
