Did you know ... 2 years on from East Africa's worst drought, CAFOD continues to help people rebuild their lives for the long term? Philipos, a farmer in Ethiopia, says that a simple well has changed his life. Today he can grow food all year round and sell his vegetables. He said: "A few years ago, this was just a dream for me. My savings are not large, but I have managed to improve them and feed my family throughout the year. I will give my children what they need for their education too." Now that's development!
