Did you know CAFOD'S One Climate, One World campaign calls on politicians to stop climate change pushing people deeper into poverty? Climate change is the biggest threat to reducing poverty and is undermining decades of progress by CAFOD. All the evidence from our partners overseas confirms this. Even the World Bank is saying that if we don't combat climate change, we won't end world poverty. This issue is bigger than politics and we're asking leaders to put party politics aside and work to commit to action on climate change.
